It is good to know that he is in a better place without suffering. I am very sad and i promiss you will be in my Heart forever, i will pray for you. I love you Dad your daughter Thessy

“ I remember when Max left home and went into the army, I was just a little girl but I wrote him faithfully and he always wrote back. He cared what a little girl thought and needed! We became good friends when he came home, I was a teenager at that time. He was to me , the best big brother I could ask for. He was interested in my life and showed it in many ways, giving advice, correcting me when he saw I was headed in the wrong direction, and listening to teenager problems :) As I grew into an adult we had a different relationship but still a good one ,family get togethers , marriage, children.We didn't see each other as much but still talked on the phone often. As we got older and health problems began ,the brother that once could talk my head off and never at a loss for words , became more and more silent. Desease began to rob him of his talkative personality , I missed that so much.I am not much of a talker but he always filled the conversation. I'm sorry to say because of that we grew apart I guess but I never stopped loving my loving older brother!! I will miss you but will always have my memories of you ,no one can take your memories of a better time. I pray to see you again in Heaven ,where sickness and disease will be gone and we will see all our family that have gone before us. I love you Max. Ephesians ch.3 v.14-20
