“ On Friday I heard about Charles from Alton Owens. I was sad to hear of the death of such a great man and wonderful husband, father, grandfather and teacher. During the years that I taught with Charles he talked frequently of you and Heather...I also hear he was a proud Granddaddy. Charles was always smiling and he was willing to spend extra time before or after school with students who struggled with math. He was cheerful and students truly learned with his as their teacher. May God bring great memories of good times to yu in the days ahead...Teresa Lumsden

“ I just read this in the paper and my heart is breaking! He was such a special friend to me while I was a teacher at Armuchee High School. I have fond memories of joking and laughing with him. He taught me how to use my first computer program as a gradebook. I remember when my son, Logan (4 years old at the time), came to AHS during a planning day and Charles played a video game with him. Logan called him "Mr. Smart" and always to come to AHS to play with him. We had a big laugh about that, too. I remember Charles talking about his garden and flowers. He even gave me some of his vegetables to cook at my house. I taught Heather in my classes and loved her, too. I will always remember how proud he was of his wife and daughter. I never got to meet his grandchild, but I am sure he thought she was the grandest thing ever!! I am so sorry Josephine and Heather! You all will be in my prayers. Charles was loved by many and will be missed by us all!
