“ it is such an honor to have called Cindy my friend. Even if we hadn't talked in months, we always picked right where we left off. She had a heart and gift of caring for those around her. Her beautiful soul will be missed by so many that she touched.

My sympathies to her family, and the grandbabies that were the apples of her eye. Her love will live on in her family and friends, as she is unforgettable.

Love to you Cindy, thanks for the time shared with me in Omaha, and again a few years ago in Georgia.

“ You're so young, Cindy. Too young to leave your wonderful family and friends. But the universe had other plans. I should say your Father in Heaven did.

Our world won't be the same now. Our chatroom won't be the same. The very people who brought drama and chatter are mostly silent now, talking in whispers. Our recipe board won't be the same, either.

I've asked everyone who can bake, to do so. To go make their families something nice in your honor.

You told everyone to make no fuss in your passing and I find that a difficult request, although I'll do my best to be as strong as you were. Tough broad, you are. Seriously.

Things will come to settle into a new normal, as life has a way of doing. But not a day will go by where your name isn't posted somewhere in the Pool. I'll be adding a new page to the place soon, and it will be in your honor. After all, you were there from nearly the beginning: Helping to shape the place, watch for trouble and extend a friendly greeting to strangers. I'm not going to let anyone forget. Hows that for no fuss?

We all lost a family member with your departure. I feel as I've lost a sister and a best friend.

One day though, I'll see you again and I hope you'll save me a piece of that Red Velvet cake.

“ I am so sorry for your loss and would like to offer my condolences to your family. Death is such a terrible thing for a family to go through. Those who die God keeps in his memory because he cares, they are precious in his eyes.
