“ I was stunned to learn Debbie passed away. I remember when I first met her I drew her a picture of herself. She was always so faithful about "liking" and commenting on FB. She is a gem who will be missed!!! I'm so sorry Joe. May God give you an extra portion of comfort and faith. Flo Edmondson

“ I chose to light a red candle in your memory because it reminded me of the wild ride we took in my red corvette. You were the color red. Vibrant and warm. We will see you on the other side of the sunshine sweetheart!

“ Debbie, I'm still in shock!!! I just Never imagined I wouldn't Always have u in my life in one way or another. I guess I thought you were Invincible!!! Not having u here to talk to or to post sweet comments on each other's fb page, discuss popular topics of the day and brag about our families-yes even give each other hard times about our rilvary football teams!!!
Even though we hadn't been able to be together physically in some time Never meant u weren't Always in my heart. Guess I always took for granted we would be there for one another if and when needed.
Im thankful you're no longer in pain and you're in a much better place Please know I would Never want you to come back and suffer anymore but it doesn't stop me from wishing I could see your smiling face and have our crazy talks and make each other laugh until we hurt.
Please know I'll Always cherish our time together and when my number is called I will be looking for you on the other side!!!
Rest In Peace my sweet sweet friend and know you are loved and will be Greatly missed!!!!
Oh and don't worry your beautiful family will be covered in prayers and watched over..... God Will see them through.
Sending love from one Debbie to another!!! ❤️😭💔🙏

I sit here trying to express my feelings of loss...and the words escape me. Plain and simple...I miss you, and I love you! You truly were one of a kind...I will never forget all of our conversations. Right now, as I send this...our first conversation comes to mind...and it makes me smile through the tears...Rest In Peace my Heart....

“ She flew off to heaven on the wings of angels. Rest In Peace my precious friend. I know I will be able to feel you on the sidelines when our beloved Crimson Tide enters the field. Hug our friends , my family , and of course The Bear for me and I will meet you all at the goal line when my game of life is done.
