“ Donna and I were pen pals. We started corresponding when we were 13. She lived in Fremont, CA for a brief time when her son was young and we were able to meet in person. We stayed penpals and talked on the phone. I knew she wasn't doing well and I had been calling her to no avail. We were like sisters in a way. I will be missing her and remembering her all the rest of my days. God rest her soul!
