“ I had the pleasure of working with Ed at Elk Roofing for many years. He was an extremely competent and dedicated engineer. But more than that, he was a friend, very generous with his time and willing to take me under his wing to teach me a lot about electronics. We also shared a love for the outdoors. I'll never forget the time he shared photos of the house he planned to buy near Ft. Payne. He was an exceptional person and I know many will miss him. My sincere condolences to his family. —Paul Weaver, Northport, AL

“ I've known Grady Edward Coker since he was sixteen and I was fifteen. When we got older I didn't let him live down that he was older than I. Five months Made the difference. Fir some background, we scuba dove, swam, fished, hunted, camped, traveled, flew RC gliders, dated some of the same girls (all ladies), had our Ham Radio tests and licensing at the same time. He was in my wedding and I was in his. I say these things as a prelude to telling you that he was a grand companion, friend and fellow outdoors. Ed has been a great family man, husband to Diane, and their children. He was dedicated to helping people, family, friends, and strangers. God created a gem when he created Ed.

“ Ed and I grew up together and spent countless days together. We're attended school and graduated from the same high school. I was a part of his wedding and he was my best man. Ed and I swam, fished, hunted, and did all of the crazy things teenagers and guys in their twenties do. I say all of this as a foundation for understanding how we spent a twenty year lifetime together. Ed had a heart of gold and was willing to help anyone that he could. I have known kind people but Ed took the cake in that department. There is no way that I can list all of the goodness that Ed has shown to me and others. It is easy to say that Ed had a burning desire to always improve himself and his associates. Love, kindness, hardworking, attention to God, family, friends and strangers pretty much describes Ed. He will be greatly missed !
