“ Payton was and is my BEST FRIEND! I miss him so much! We were in all the same classes together. We talked EVERYDAY! We laughed about the craziest things at times, but we were still best friends. I miss seeing him and his smile daily. I will never forget him or the times we shared!

“ What moves through you now is a silence, a quiet sadness, a longing for one more day— one more word— one more touch. You may not understand why he had to leave this earth so soon, or why he left before you were ready to say good-bye, but little by little, the memories will begin to flood your mind, and you will soon begin to remember not just that he died but that he lived and that God blessed the two of you to share in that life, even if for just a little while. Our thoughts and prayers are with your family. We love you all so much!

“ I can't even begin to say how sorry I am to hear of your loss. So lost for words. May God's grace shelter you and your family through this time. Hold on to the memories and always know that there is a great day coming. You will all see him, and touch him again. That is a Promise from God. Keep your faith and hope. Remember every day that passes by is one day closer to his returning.

“ Children are a gift from God to be loved and cherished every day for there's no promise of tomorrow, but praise God there's a promise of eternity! My thoughts and prayers are with Greg & Cindy and their family tonight. God bless this precious family as they lay their angel to rest tomorrow! It's not goodbye, just goodnight!
