“ A long, long time ago, don't even remember the year I hung out a good deal with Jack and his buddy, Billy Jan Goza. We had great times. They once started to procure a couple of water melons from a field. I was the wheel man. Ha. I decided to take my pistol out from under the seat and fire a shot or two into the ground. I yelled come on guys. I told Jack and Billy Jan the owner came out trying to shoot them. They were both scared to death and swore never again. Finally I started laughing several miles up the road and told them it was me. I thought they were going to kill me on the spot. Jack was such a great guy. I cherish many of the memories and will because to chat with him in Heaven when Jesus calls my number.
