“ Clay was my brother from another mother.. I remember us going hunting together one not after of work and it was a pay day. I really wasn't prepared for what I was getting my self into but it was I night to remember I can't really go into all the details of all that happen that night but it was hilarious.. long story short I ended up with my check getting soaked but Clay I really can't believe you gone man. You text me a couple weeks ago saying that you was thinking about me and we supposed to had gotten together and hung out but didn't never because of our schedule and now your gone😭😭😭 You will always be in my heart bruh... we made a lot of promises to each other and I'm going do everything I can to keep them. Love you Bruh

“ I have a special place in my heart for my cousin, Clay. He came to my mom's funeral five years ago. I had not seen him in years, but I was so glad to have a chance to talk to him and hug his neck. I pray that he's in Heaven with his mom and dad and Aunt Jackie and Uncle Joe. No more sadness, no more tears. May God be with his children and all those who love him and miss him. I pray that some good will come from this tragedy. With God, all things are possible. Carol, I'm thinking of you and praying for you all. Let me know if there's anything I can do. Love always, Aunt Joan.

“ I have had so many good times with clay. It's hard to pick just one. I guess one of the remembered story. Clay told about me and hunted from dark till day light as we usually do. It was about 40 mins into daylight the next morning. Clay and me we're parked at s a big Creek having a cold beer and a possum about 100 yards out was running across a plowed field. I said I hate them slick tales a clay said go catch it and kill it. Long story short I ran it down before it got to the woods. Clay laughed so hard and laughed. But every visit with clay was a memory. As like many others we were brought together with the love our dogs. God bless and be with everyone. Thank you Lord for blessing me with such a wonderful friend. I love and will miss you brother.
