“ Kenneth was one of the nicest men I have known. He was always thinking of other people. I remember once our family was visiting for a few days, and he “gave” me his truck to use while I was in town as if it was my own. This is just one example of how selfless he was. He was a great role model for me.

“ I remember Uncle Kenneth "Coconut" and the good times at the lake during the summer. I also remember him having a rolled up collection of knives in his trunk. He showed them to us several times. I remember him as laughing a lot. The Christmas get-to-gathers were great times for growing closer for our families. I know he is already missed; but, he no longer suffers. You continue to be in our prayers. When we shared the news with the kids, they said that Uncle Kenneth and Granddaddy were in heaven laughing together and making jokes. Hope they don't get thrown out for being too rowdy.
