“ I've known you going on 12 years, just a short time really. I was proud to be your step mother and wish you could have been here a little while longer. I have so many happy memories of you and so happy we got to share some of your proudest moments like prom, graduation, college, etc. So glad I got to be the one who taught you how to make cornbread, cobbler and deviled eggs! We loved those things so much, sometimes we would make a batch just for us, with olives of course! One of my favorite memories is taking you to get your drivers license! I was so excited, I knew you had passed when you got out of the car because you were running towards me with the biggest smile on your face and jumped in my arms! We were jumping up and down squeeling with delight and didn't care who saw us! I will always love you and miss you and wish we had been able to spend more time together. You were the daughter I never had...

I didn't know Misty and don't know any of the family but for some reason I saw her obituary a few minutes ago when I was looking on FB. I have several grandchildren who are in their twenties. I can't begin to imagine losing one of them at such a young age. My heart goes out to the family and her fiance. Prayers for peace and comfort in the days ahead. May God bless this family.
