“ Nellie Jo was a loving Christian woman and a gracious southern lady who made us all welcome in her home and at her table. As co-grandmothers to Taylor and Joseph, we appreciated each other's place in the hearts of our grands. In an act of love, she made sure that I knew she loved Taylor as dearly as she did Joseph. No one who knew her could ever have doubted it. We shall meet again, dear friend, and will miss you until then.

“ Nellie Jo had the most beautiful heart that radiated joy and love. She loved others so well and welcomed us in as though we were her own. She had the best laugh that warmed me up from the inside out. She was the epitome of comfort. I hope to have learned enough from her example to become at least half the woman she was. We are blessed to have known her and grateful to know that she is at peace, without pain or suffering, in the presence of our Savior. We do not grieve like the world grieves, but feel great comfort that she was embraced in Jesus’ arms on Monday morning. Regretfully, we will not be able to be there Wednesday or Thursday. Praying for peace and comfort over all of the family.

Love you all,

Blake, Laura, Atticus, and Cullen
