“Earlene expressed a good deal of engaging kindness to my mother, both before and after my mother's stroke. Mom brightened up each and every time that she encountered Earlene; of which I treasure those moment memories to this day.

“When I met Earlene for the first time, she and Wendell had been married for a short time. I was a few years younger than them and when I met her, I saw a beautiful person. Earlene invited Mom on a trip many years ago. She was so excited to go. Mom knew that there would be a lot of laughing and eating. Mother was an only child, she found family in my Daddy's family. A visit to Alabama had the same stops.. see Aunt Imogene and Uncle J.D., Granny Smith, all my cousins and Earlene and Wendell. Earlene and Mama would start talking and laughing and Daddy and Wendell would have their own conversation. I would start bugging my younger cousins, Michael and Miriam. (Sorry y'all.) Those will always be treasured memories. The loss of Earlene is hard, but I have no loss of memories with her. She is is always here, with my loved ones, laughing with my much loved Mother.
