“ I was saddened to read of Bill's passing. I worked with him for three years in the Marshals Service Office in Atlanta from 1987 to 1990. Bill and I had some adventures together during that time- especially a memorable two-day, three-state, prisoner trip through Georgia, North Florida, and Alabama. I still tell people stories about that trip! I remember how Bill always longed for the time he would be reassigned from Atlanta to Rome so he could get back home and be close to his family and friends. I was glad to see he made it not long after I had moved on to Memphis. May God bless your family as you grieve the loss of this fine man.

When I think back on some of our activities and adventures, I can't help but smile. He was a big help to me as a rookie and I will always appreciate that. My prayers are with you all.

“ I grew up spending more time with my Uncle Bill than the rest of the family due to him and my Dad both being in the Marines and were sometimes stationed in the same areas. He was always fun and loving. He has always been right next to my Dad in my heart. He was the first person I called when I lost my Dad and the memory of him standing ramrod straight saluting as they played Taps for my father will be with me forever. I love you, Uncle Bill. Rest in Peace.
